The Blessing of Godly Elders & Church Health

Paul's Letter to Titus is one of the three New Testament books included in The Pastoral Epistles. In those books Paul is instructing two of his protégés Timothy and Titus how to pastor churches. Titus is the shortest of the three books with only three chapters. In Titus 1:5 Paul gives the purpose for his letter to Titus, "so that you might put what remained into order." The verb "put into order" was a medical term that was applied to the setting of a crooked limb so that it might heal and be healthy. That is clearly Paul's concern for the churches that Titus pastored on the island of Crete – that they be healthy communities representing the gospel of Jesus Christ well in a dark world.

What this tells us is that "church health" is the number one priority in pastoral ministry of a local church. God desires His Church to be healthy because a healthy church best represents Him and best ministers His healing in a spiritually sick world. Several years ago a well-known pastor wrote a best-selling book in which one sentence was worth the price of the book, "Don't concentrate on church growth, but on church health, because healthy things grow naturally." That is essentially the point that Paul is making to Titus. Concentrate on church health and Titus would have effective churches.

If we ask how a church becomes healthy, Paul did not leave Titus, or us, in doubt. The Book of Titus divides into two parts and both are the keys to a healthy church. Chapter one is Paul's instructions about qualified Christian leadership. Chapters two and three focus on the importance of "sound doctrine." What is interesting about that expression is that the word sound means "healthy." Isn't that interesting in light of our church health discussion so far? This term is defined by Pastor Jeff Reed, author of The First Principles Series, as meaning "doctrine that is healthy and integrated fully" into a believer's life.

This is the second way a church becomes healthy – when its members integrate the teachings of Christ into the way they live. A person only can be said to hold to "sound doctrine" when they are living it out in the way they behave and relate to others. This reinforces the vital truth that doctrine is both what we believe and how we behave. A large part of becoming a healthy congregation is emphasizing the integration of sound living into sound believing. That is healthy doctrine. When our churches and families are sound in that way, others see the power of Christ at work affirming the truth we believe.

Now we can begin to see why Paul's first way for a church to become healthy is through qualified Christian leaders. Again Pastor Reed is helpful when he writes, "Men who lead their own families well are to become part of a team of elders who shepherd the whole community, thus keeping the church solid and stable in the teachings of Christ." A church with proper leadership will have healthy examples and healthy teaching that will set a plumb line so that people know how to behave and live out God's design that brings true health. Nothing could be more important in church life.

Now we can see, as we saw in our previous December article, why elders are selected on the basis of spiritual qualifications. Without men of high character and maturity, it is impossible to lead a church into healthy doctrine. The leaders will undermine the very foundation of church health. This is why Paul emphasizes that elders must be spiritually healthy in three areas: 1) family life (1:6), 2) personal life (1:7-8), and 3) public ministry (1:9). We will take those up in another article in this series, but for now, pray for your elders – that they will be men who truly integrate doctrine that is healthy fully into their lives. Any church led by such men is truly blessed.

Your friend, seeking true health with you
Pastor Brian (:~).

From the Family Life Pastor:

Various Thoughts:

As I write this article, it is the season between Christmas and the New Year. There have been a number of things that have happened in this past year that have gotten a lot of attention.

We had a number of natural disasters that caused a great deal of pain and hurt for many people throughout the world. We had quite a number of well known celebrities die, and that caused a great deal of angst for many people. We had some racial issues like we haven't seen in many years, and many people were injured both physically and emotionally through it. We had an election that was very heated and difficult, and many people are still unwilling to accept the results, even though we had a process for electing a president which was followed. All of these things will eventually slip away and we will begin to focus on other "news" items and things that are happening in our close up world.

With all of this, I am grateful that we have the reminder from scripture – In Hebrews 13:8 we read “Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever”. He does not change, he is not subject to “re-election”, nor affected by natural disasters or by life or death – He is God! In Psalm 102:27, the Psalmist writes about God – “But you remain the same, and your years will never end”. James 1:17 says of God – “Every good and perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of the heavenly lights, who does not change like shifting shadows. In a world where things are changing so quickly, it is great to have a heavenly Father who does not change, who is the same yesterday, today and forever, whose years will never end. So, while we have to adjust to these things that are changing, hurting us and causing uncertainty in the world, we have an anchor. This is summed up by scripture much better than I can say it in Hebrews 6:17-20: “Because God wanted to make the unchanging nature of His purpose very clear to the heirs of what was promised, He confirmed it with an oath. God did this so that, by two unchangeable things in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled to take hold of the hope offered to us, may be greatly encouraged. We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure. It enters the inner sanctuary behind the curtain, where Jesus, who went before us, has entered on our behalf.” In these uncertain and difficult times, we have that anchor – Jesus Christ to hold onto. Praise His Name!

Another thought:

We are so blessed to be part of the body of Christ here at Bethel – We have the honor of working alongside of a wonderful, dedicated staff who are committed to servicing Christ and helping the body to grow and mature in our spiritual walk. I am thankful for each one and the blessing that they are to me and my family.

We have a VERY generous body of believers here at Bethel. We were blessed with gifts of words of love, encouragement and meals and financial gifts in October for the Pastor appreciation month, and then a very generous financial gift & individual items again in December. It is sometimes overwhelming to be blessed in these ways and thank you does not adequately express our gratitude for our church family!

More thoughts:

A few months ago we celebrated Ann's five years of being cancer free after her bout with breast cancer. That was a very important milestone and we are grateful to God for this blessing and gift.

As we go into each year, we are never sure what is ahead. I choose to believe that Jesus Christ is who God's Word says that He is, He is part of the triune Godhead – God the Father, God the Son (Jesus), and God the Holy Spirit. I also believe that each of us must choose personally to believe that Jesus is who He said He is, and make Him our personal Savior and Lord. I choose to proclaim that loudly and as clearly as I can, and pray that in this coming year – 2017, He will be glorified in my life through words and deeds, more and more each day.

Thank you all and
God Bless you in this New Year!
Pastor Hank

Bette Cannon

Dear Bethel Friends & Family,

Thank you so much for your kind and generous gift to me. This was a very humbling experience for me. Pride raised its ugly head – something I battle all the time. But I can't tell you how much this has meant to me; certainly in a monetary way (and timely) but also a new awareness of the kindness of God's people at Bethel. And of course God's goodness to me in common (daily) and unexpected ways. Praise God from Whom All Blessings flow.

Love and Gratitude,
Diane Case

Dear Bethel,

Thank you so much for all the prayers, kind words of concern, visits, meals, & cards you have shared on my behalf during this time of recovery. I so much appreciate each and every one of them & each and everyone of you! I am so blessed to be a part of such a wonderful church family like we have here at Bethel. You have all made me feel so loved and cared for!

In Him,
Diane Kytta

Dear Friends at Bethel,

Thank you so much for the beautiful flowers you sent in memory of our mom. We so appreciate your thoughtfulness. We are also grateful for the many cards we received.

With Love,
Don & Susie VanRyn

Dear Church Family,

I really don't have the words to say that would even come close to expressing my feelings for my Bethel family today.

Over the last year, through the greatest difficulty of my life, I have been truly blown away by the kindness, encouragement and love of an incredible number of you.

Though my parents live in Utah, Pastor Hank & Ann and Pastor Brian & Ellen have demonstrated the same kind of love to me as my parents would if they were here themselves.

Though my brother lives in Wyoming, brothers like Jim Ferris, Jon Motta, Dave Hanson, Gary Wixtrom, Kurt Janofski, Jonathon Dale, Dave Paul, Miah Lacar, Jack Brown, John Thomsen, Lynn Miller and so many others have stepped in at perfect times to fill that role in my life.

My sisters live in Nevada and Iowa, but here at Bethel, surrogate sisters like Amy Shreve, Judy Caldwell, Julie Motta, Becky Nelson, Cori Steede, Annette Brown, Adelin Deering, Marj Brown, Bette Cannon, Cindy Pawley and many others have in big ways, little ways and ways they may not even know, helped me to feel loved, welcomed and remembered.

My cousin's, nieces and nephews live all over the country, but like they would, many of you beside those I have already mentioned have helped to make such a difficult time easier to handle, because you have reached out a hand, given me a hug, helped me financially, helped me physically and helped me mentally. Those like Chris Mauser and others who have reached out to my boys and loved on them when this has been equally difficult for them.

I am equally thankful for those who continue to treat Sarah like family and reach out to her in various ways.

You are all demonstrating the love of Christ to me in such a profound way that I am humbled and overwhelmed by your example. I cannot ever repay the incredible things you've done. Thank you. Thank you. THANK YOU! From the bottom of my heart. I love you all.

Thank you,
Miles Bagley

Everyday Evangelism (EE)

A New Beginning and a Grand Finale

EE will begin a new semester on Wednesday, February 1 at 6:00 p.m. As most of you know this class helps to equip Christ's disciples to share the Gospel more effectively. It helps to remove the fear most of us have about witnessing and helps us to know how to handle objections. Applying the knowledge gained in this class helps us to fulfill the last part of Bethel's mission statement - "to go tell"-- and most importantly Jesus' command to "Go into all the world and make disciples." How well are we doing this? Maybe EE can be helpful. Last year EE international has experienced nearly 11 million professions of faith. Wow! Wow!

One of the great training tools is to actually do visits, which we call on-the-job training with experienced EE trained people. Here's is a glimpse of an EE team's last visit of the semester—a grand finale.

A team visited a family with two children—the boy age 9 and the girl age 5. After a brief conversation, they knew that the parents were already Christians. No need to present the Gospel, they thought. However the man of the house said that he would like to hear the presentation that we generally do. The experienced trainer proceeded, but the parents interrupted and said, “Can the children listen too?” “Of course.” So the children were asked to sit with the foursome and the Gospel was presented. No need to ask for a commitment, he thought. The parents were already Christians. After a bit more visiting, the team left, but that is not the end of the story.

After the team departed the boy said, “I am not sure I am going to heaven.” His mother asked if he would like to be and if he wanted to pray. The little boy bowed his and said something close to this, “Dear God I know that you have been knocking at my heart, please come in and clean the dirt out of my heart!” Then the little girl said, “What about me?” Then she too prayed and accepted Jesus. (Used by permission from the family.)

When we heard this story, we were thrilled and realized afresh how the Holy Spirit uses the Word and makes it real to people. We are just the messengers.

We have many other great stories that EE teams have experienced, but we will have to wait until eternity to “hear the rest of the story...”
